

School Song

*When bluff King Harry ruled the land
And favoured sport and learning,
Then pious Nicholas Gibson's hand
Set our clear beacon burning,
A home of brotherly love and light
When days are cold and cloudy:
Join heart with voice in carolling bright
Sing "Gaude, Gaude, Gaude!"*

*Then Prisca Coborn raised a school,
Another beacon burning.
Gives joy and knowledge to us all
O'er time all changes spurning,
O true in word, in action strong,
Let all of us endeavour,
To hand the torch of life along,
For Coborn's sake, forever!*

*We honour both our founders' names
And keep the beacons burning,
To prove the School a school of fame,
A home of sport and learning,
A home of family love and light
When days are cold and cloudy:
Join heart with voice in carolling bright,
Sing "Gaude, Gaude, Gaude!"*

Words by Bernard Pitt, Michael Stewart and John French